

Acknowledgments

The Environmental Protection Division wishes to thank the various organizations and individuals who provided EPD with invaluable input towards the creation of the draft Comprehensive Statewide Water Management Plan presented in Georgia's Water Resources: A Blueprint for the Future. Whether by serving on a Technical, Basin or the State Advisory Committee, your contributions towards this first of its kind effort for the State of Georgia have been greatly appreciated.¹ Those contributions provided a rich information base from which to draw as the draft plan was developed. It should be noted, however, that the policy content of the draft plan has been solely determined by the Director of EPD, and participation as an advisor should not necessarily be assumed to infer endorsement of the Draft Plan.

Technical Advisory Committees (TAC)

TACs provided early input, when needed, by answering specific technical questions to inform water policy options. The technical advisors have extensive expertise and are actively working on and/or researching the topic being addressed. TAC members brought a broad range of scientific, technical, and practical experience to EPD during the planning process.

Basin Advisory Committees (BAC)

The seven BACs represented six "super" basins as well as an overlay committee to provide interaction/coordination between this process and the Metropolitan North Georgia Water Planning District's water management plans. BAC members were nominated by various organizations and appointed to serve by the Governor. The primary purpose of the BACs was to provide structured "regional" perspectives and input on water management objectives and potential policy tools and/or options. The BACs were not asked to reach consensus on specific decisions, but to assess each set of policy option in some detail for the purpose of providing insight from diverse perspectives to help EPD refine and improve Georgia's water management policies and/or options.

Statewide Advisory Committee (SAC)

The SAC provided EPD with statewide perspectives on Georgia's overarching goals for water management and the array of proposed policy tools. Statewide perspectives were needed to bring the full range of Georgia's geographic, economic, cultural, jurisdictional, and water resource realities into discussions of water management. The committee was primarily composed of representatives of organizations that have statewide constituencies and interest and were appointed to serve by the Governor. The SAC was not asked to reach consensus on specific decisions, but assessed each set of policy option in some detail for the purpose of providing insight from diverse perspectives to help EPD refine and improve Georgia's water management policies and/or options. SAC members were:

Mr. Ross King – Deputy Director, Association County Commissioners of GA
 Mr. Bryan Tolar – Vice President of Public Affairs, Georgia Agribusiness Council
 Mr. Terry Christie – Chairman of Georgia Association of Regional Development Centers
 Mr. Jack Dozier – Executive Director, Georgia Association of Water Professionals

Policy Research, Facilitation and Technical Writing

The Environmental Protection Division appreciates the policy research conducted by Dr. Jim Kundell and colleagues at the Carl Vinson Institute of Government - University of Georgia which, along with other reference materials, provided background for BAC and SAC discussion packets.

The Environmental Protection Division also wishes to extend their appreciation to the Fanning Institute - University of Georgia for their assistance with meeting facilitation and development of support materials. In addition, Ms. Leigh Askew, Ms. Raye Rawls, and Ms. Courtney Tobin deserve a special thanks for all their efforts in helping with the development of the draft Comprehensive Statewide Water Management Plan as well as the other documents comprising Georgia's Water Resources: A Blueprint for the Future. The Fanning Institute was helped throughout the Basin Advisory Committee process and during the Town Hall meetings by the following individuals: Ansley Barton, Chris Carlston, Elaine Cheney, Miriam Cummings, Heather Fatzinger, Jim Feldt, Tim Hedeem, Eleanor Hooks, David Hooker, Doug Hooker, Dan Hope, Inga Kennedy, Myke Harris Long, Kirsten Ohlander, Susan Raines, Adam Saslow and Wally Tanksley.

The Environmental Protection Division extends its gratitude to Ms. Marjorie Snook of Newfields LLC for her technical writing and editing assistance as well as to the staff of Yellobee Studio for their graphics and layout support.
